

John Hanson is partnering with Charles County Public Libraries (CCPL) for this year's summer reading!

Libraries™ Rock!

To complete this assignment, document the completion of 7 badges/ challenges in one of these ways

- Create an account online with your library card at the web site, ccpl.beanstack.org: get the printed copy of your completed challenges, reading logs and review(s) from the library at the end of the summer.
- Or if you do not have access to these, you can complete the paper version: mark the appropriate items in the packet by the end of the summer.

Turn in your documentation to your ELA teacher by Friday, September 7, 2018.

The CCPL summer reading challenge is all about earning badges!

- earn badges in several categories
- earn badges for logging minutes read over the summer
- earn badges for writing reviews
- earn badges for completing a challenge

Throughout the program you can go into your local CCPL library branch to receive rewards and prizes for your hard work!!

The John Hanson MS Language Arts Department challenges you to complete as many badges/challenges as possible to help show how "Libraries Rock!". At least one of these challenges should be a reading challenge. These reading challenges have been marked in this packet with an (*).

Students who complete the summer reading challenge, will receive extra credit for the 1st Quarter of the 2018-2019 School Year.

Writing Review: Badges can be earned by writing reviews for books that you complete over the summer. You can earn badges after writing 5, 10, 15, 20, 25, 30, 35, 40, 45, or 50 reviews. Your reviews should be formatted as follows: (if you write multiple reviews use your own paper, just follow the same format)
